Auditor General follows up on status of recommendations

VICTORIA – Auditor General John Doyle has released his annual fall follow-up report, which includes updates on 13 pieces of work and a cumulative update on the implementation of all recommendations covered by the Office's follow-up reports since April 2009.

Of the 273 recommendations included in the cumulative update, 74 per cent have been addressed. Sixty-four per cent have been fully or substantially implemented and 10 per cent were addressed through alternative action by the respective agency.

"Follow-ups are a necessary process for ensuring that recommendations are addressed and that British Columbians receive full value from my Office's work," said Doyle. "With 74 per cent of 273 recommendations addressed, follow-up reports demonstrate the positive results that can and will continue to be achieved through the audit and review processes."

On behalf of the Legislature's Select Standing Committee on Public Accounts (PAC), the Office of the Auditor General follows up with agencies in varying formats, including action plans, agency self-assessments, progress assessments and progress audits.

This latest follow-up report includes 11 self-assessments. Early this summer, audited organizations were sent a self-assessment form in which they were asked to describe the progress they had made in implementing the recommendations and their plans going forward. These submissions have been published unedited and in their entirety so that readers can assess for themselves whether progress is satisfactory.

Of the 62 recommendations addressed in the self-assessments, 23 per cent are fully or substantially implemented or have been addressed through alternative action, 61 per cent are partially implemented and 16 per cent have yet to be substantially addressed.

"I appreciate that some recommendations require a longer period to address," said Doyle, "but I expect that by the spring 2012 follow-up report, the majority of these recommendations will have been fully or substantially implemented. As always, I will continue to follow up on recommendations that are only partially implemented, or where no substantial action has been taken."
